

25,000 ENTER FOR DEFENSE PARADE IN CAPITAL FLAG DAY

Preparedness Pageant Committee Expected to Have 75,000 in Line of March.

SEVERAL BANDS WILL PLAY

Already, more than 25,000 persons have signed their intention of marching in Washington's preparedness parade on Flag Day, June 14. This was the estimate of those who have made entries in the pageant in writing to the parade committee, given by William F. Gude, chairman of the committee, today.

According to members of the committee, indications are that between 60,000 and 75,000 persons will march. There will be bands galore in the parade, too, according to the entries made up to this time.

The first discouragement encountered by the preparedness parade committee since the gigantic pageant was first planned came today when House leaders expressed opposition to the plan of making Flag Day and parade day a holiday in the National Capitol.

House Leaders Oppose Plan.
A. Lettich Sinclair, chairman of the committee on law and legislation, was unsuccessful today in efforts to induce Congressman Kitchen, Democratic leader, to call up the joint resolution for a holiday. Congressman Ben Johnson, chairman of the House District Committee, also refused to call up the resolution.

Mr. Sinclair is now endeavoring to induce other members to take the initiative in bringing the resolution up from the table, where it was laid when it came over after being passed by the Senate Saturday.

Neither Congressman Kitchen nor Congressman Johnson will oppose the resolution on the floor, but they will not aid it. Kitchen objects to the holiday plan as a "bad precedent." Johnson's reasons for opposing it were not stated.

Congressman Carlin of Virginia today endeavored to obtain unanimous consent of the House for adoption of a resolution suspending street car traffic on Pennsylvania avenue during the preparedness parade. Congressman Warren Worth Elwell, of Pennsylvania, interposed objection.

Congressman Bailey also said he would object to the suspension of street car traffic, which passed the Senate Saturday, declaring Flag Day a legal holiday.

Great importance is attached by members of the committee to the mass meeting of proprietors and managers of retail business establishments at the Raleigh Hotel tomorrow night.

Retail Merchants Enter.
There has never been any doubt but that the retail merchants would form one of the largest sections of the parade. But the meeting tomorrow bids fair to assure the participation of a much larger contingent from the city's retail business places than was at first expected.

It is planned to have every employee of every establishment which is able to close for the day in the line of march with the retail merchants' section.

Letters entering different organizations in the parade continued to flow into the parade committee's headquarters today.

Many Organizations Enter.
Capt. F. H. Wise, of the Volunteer Free Day Nursery, informed the committee that the members of his organization would organize a section and march.

Edward Northrup, recording secretary of Local Union No. 25, of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, also notified the committee that the electrical workers would turn out in large numbers.

L. Percy Dunbar informed that committee that the Geological Survey employees were organizing a section, and would in all likelihood make a good showing in the parade.

Arrangements for the participation of a large delegation of Knights of Columbus in the parade will be made at a meeting of Washington Assembly, fourth degree, Knights of Columbus, this evening.

Dr. E. Lester Jones of the Coast and Geodetic Survey, asked the parade committee today to assign a place in the line of march for a large representation of the Coast and Geodetic Survey employees. This section will also show an appropriate float on preparedness in the parade.

Chicago Will Be Noisiest of Cities

Convention Crowds, Chaperoned By Bands and Megaphone Leaders, Throng Streets.

CHICAGO, June 5.—Chicago started today to make good on the prediction that for the next week it will be the noisiest spot in the world—unless it be Verdun. Certainly it will be the spot where more words are spilled than anywhere else.

All of which is by way of preface to the fact that the convention crowds began arriving today. They came chaperoned by bands, megaphoned assistants, singers and just plain noise makers.

By Wednesday, Chicago will be swollen with people to nearly twice its normal size. All the hotels, incidentally, began today removing every bit of furniture from their lobbies.

No flower pots, vases, or chairs will clutter up space where enthusiasts may gossip, nor be near at hand for weapons in case arguments wax too hot.

The Coliseum and the Auditorium, where the Republican and Progressive hosts will hold solemn convales, were ready for the crowds today. Tickets for the Republican convention were at the biggest premium they ever have been for such a gathering.

There were plenty of offers of $50 for a single ticket admitting holder to the expected four daily sessions and tickets scarce at that.

It was estimated that the attempt to gain admittance will be made in vain by about 10,000 people. Only 12,000 seats for the public have been provided in the Coliseum.

WATER BOARD "O. K.'D" BY SUPREME COURT
Tribunal Settles Litigation to Test Water Users' Rights.

The law creating Oregon's water board, giving authority to regulate irrigation, was declared valid today by the Supreme Court, in the test injunction suit brought by the Pacific Livestock Company, a corporation, to determine water rights of the Slivies river.

The litigation tested rights of 200 water users along the Slivies river. Oregon Federal courts upheld the law.

Many arid Western States have similar water boards. That the law violated "due process" clause of the Constitution and denied judicial protection to property was contended by the plaintiffs. Lower courts held dissatisfied persons could have resort to courts and overturn rulings of the board.

Truants' Parents Fined Ten Cents for Each Day
NEW YORK, June 5.—A fine of 10 cents for every day lost from school, unless for illness or other good reason, will be imposed by Recorder William J. Cain of Bayonne, on the parents of truant and other absentee pupils.

He began by fining Mrs. Sophie Bash, of Bayonne, $1.50 for keeping her daughter from school eleven days. Mrs. Sophie Wermanski, whose daughter was absent fourteen days, was fined $1.40.

For every day lost by pupils the State board deducts 10 cents from the appropriation for the local schools.

Calls Washington the Rockefeller of 1799
NEW YORK, June 5.—Prof. J. G. Hill, history instructor of the teachers' school, Columbia College, addressed a meeting at the Bouck White Church of Social Revolution last night.

He said: "George Washington was nothing more nor less than the John D. Rockefeller of his day when he died. Benjamin Franklin was slightly disreputable in connection with the signing of the Constitution."

INTRENCHED REBELS FACE U. S. MARINES

Resistance to American Forces in Santo Domingo Will Require More Troops.

Serious developments in Santo Domingo, where the United States has assumed the task of putting down a revolution against the native authorities, will occasion the sending of more marines to re-enforce those already on the island, according to officials of the State Department.

American marines already occupy Santo Domingo City, Monte Cristi, and Puerto Plata. The last named town, with the fort that commands it, was taken May 31, after a two-hour resistance on the part of the rebels, during which Capt. Herbert J. Hishinger, of the marines, was killed. Although Monte Cristi was occupied without resistance, the rebels are reported in State Department advices to be strongly entrenched outside the town.

Too Much Money in Sight.
According to State Department officials, the present trouble grew out of the fact that under American management of the customs collections, the Dominican treasury, for the first time in years, has a surplus.

General Arias, a member of President Jimenez's cabinet, recently organized the revolution on the ground that Jimenez was too friendly toward the American Government. The Washington Government advised Jimenez to stick, promising to put down the revolution, but the President, although nine of the twelve provinces were said to have declared for Arias. The American Government now hopes to get Jimenez back in the saddle.

Most of the marines were taken from Haiti, where the American Government has already recently put down a revolution. It is feared that the departure of this force for Santo Domingo will be the signal for fresh outbreaks in Haiti.
